K72 came on the flop, A on the turn, & the beautiful J on the river to give Bonnie the straight. She took Lungu out. Don't know the chip count the websites we are watching are not up to date. Way to go Bonnie!

It looks like there was a big hand involving several players for the leaderboard change. New seat assignments: Bonnie is at table 371 where she started the day. At the table with her are 5 of the other top 10 chip leaders. Keep chipping up Bonnie!

June 13, 2010 3:10 pm - Final Table - Ladies 2010 WSOP

Bonnie Overfield is in seat 6. Play Your Game Bonnie and bring it home!!!

3:22pm - THATS OUR BONNIE. Bonnie isn't going to let the chip leader push her around. Chip leader Boesen raises and Bonnie pushes ALL-IN. Boesen folds. Bonnie is up 44,000 more chips.

3:42pm - Bonnie gets involved in a hand with Derosa. Bonnie called her 45,000 raise. Flop comes KJQ and Derosa pushes All-In. Bonnie folds after thinking about it. Bonnie is in 8th with about 241,000 chips.

3:51pm - Bonnie is NOT afraid to play. She really is there to win this thing. Bonnie raised all-in from the hijack position and everyone folded & Bon picks up the blinds. Very next hand Boesen raises 27,000 and Bonnie reraised to 65,000. The chip leader thought about it then folded. Bonnie now in 5th with 302,000 chips. GO BONNIE. You are giving us goosebumps. We are so proud of you.

3:52pm -10 Minute Break

4:02pm - Level 21 has just started. Blinds are 8000/16,000 with a 2000 chip ante

4:11pm - Chip Count:

1 Kami Chisholm 903,000
2 Sidsel Boesen 442,000
3 Timmi Derosa 439,000
4 La Sengphet 340,000
5 Allison Whalen 320,000
6 Bonnie Overfield 299,000
7 Vanessa Hellebuyck 221,000
8 Holly Hodge 214,000
9 Loren Watterworth 46,000

4:20pm - Bonnie forced to fold with a raise and reraise in front of her big blind.

4:37pm - Still waiting for an update. Might be a lot of folding around to the blinds.

4:43pm - Whalen who was in 7th place doubles up and goes to 2nd with big hand against Boesen (who started the day as the chip leader). Boesen drops to 8th. Bonnie is still in the middle of the pack at 5th with 272,000 chips. She is playing well and staying steady by recovering and getting her chips back from blinds and antes shes had top put out. Bonnie is in a tough spot because we think she is in the big blind with chip leader Chisholm on the button.

4:50pm - Bonnie moves up into 4th with 266,000 chips as Sengphet drops to 5th with 262,000 chips.

5:02pm - Watterworth eliminated in 9th place. Down to 8 players. Bon in 5th with 260,000 chips. Level 22 has started. Binds: 10,000/20,000 with 3000 antes.

5:08pm - Bonnie goes out in 8th place.

Derosa raises to 50,000 and Bonnie re-raises her all-in. When the cards are turned Bonnie has AK & Derosa has AA. Flop comes K85 turn is 7 and river a 5. Bonnie had no other way to play it and got unlucky going up against pocket Aces. She played it exactly right.

For some people poker isn't just a game. It is a passion. Like any art or sport some people are more talented. They have a sense when to lay down and when to raise. Bonnie Overfield is one of those people. We have been railbirds for her at a few tournaments, sometimes from long distance and sometimes in person. It is always exciting watching her from near or far. Bonnie is a class act and not just a lucky poker player. She is a skilled player with good sense, patience, and is always trying to better her game. Let's just say it like it is--Bonnie is a damn good poker player. Congratulations Bonnie, and thanks for letting us be in your dream.

Bonnie Overfield and Barb Andre Van Lith are the first two women we met who really loved poker like we did. We admire both of them and love to talk to them about poker, play poker with them, and learn from them by watching and talking for hours about hands and situations. Thanks for this year's WSOP ride ladies. Can we go again next year?
